defining masochism as literary perversion this book probes the productivity of masochistic aesthetics in the literature of leopold von sacher masoch and contemporary queer films analysing radical accounts of desire gender and sexuality theoretically and representationally responses to heterosexual female masochism have ranged from neglect in theories that focus predominantly or only upon masochistic sexuality within male subjects to condemnation from feminists who regard it as an inverted expression of patriarchal control rather than a legitimate form of female desire it has commonly been understood as a passive form of sexuality thus ignoring the potential for activity and agency that the masochistic position may involve which underpins the crucial argument that female masochism can be conceived as enquiring ethical activity taking as its subject the works of jane campion catherine breillat michael haneke and lars von trier as well as the films secretary steven shainberg dans ma peau marina de van red road andrea arnold 2006 amer hélène cattat and bruno forzani and sleeping beauty julia leigh female masochism in film avoids these reductive and simplistic approaches by focusing on the ambivalences and intricacies of this type of sexuality and subjectivity using the philosophical writings of kristeva irigaray lacan scarry and bataille mcphée argues that masochism cannot and should not be considered aside from its ethical and intersubjective implications and furthermore that the aesthetic tendencies emerging across these films obscenity extremity confrontation and a transgressive ambiguous form of beauty are strongly related to these implications ultimately this complex and novel work calls upon the spectator and the theorist to reconsider normative ideas about desire corporeality fantasy and suffering this volume provides an integrative theory firmly grounded in current psychology of the self and offers a fresh compelling account of one of psychology's most enigmatic behavior patterns professor baumeister provides comprehensive coverage of historical and cross cultural theories and empirical data on masochism and presents recent original data drawn from a large data set of anonymous masochistic scripts of fantasies and favorite experiences drawn from the latest social psychological research and theories professor baumeister returns the emphasis to the original and proto typical form of masochism sexual masochism and explains these phenomena as a means of releasing the individual from the burden of self awareness it is the first volume to present a psychological theory compatible with the mounting evidence that most masochists are not mentally ill nor does masochism derives from sadism instead professor baumeister finds that masochism emerges as an escapist response to the problematic nature of selfhood and he attempts to foster an understanding of sexual masochism that emphasizes both escape from self and construction of meaning hypotheses the book is directed at all those interested in the self and identity in paradoxical behavior patterns and in the construction of meaning presenting specific clinical recommendations
